Mr. Riccardo Mesiano, Sustainable Development Officer, ESCAP, mesiano@un.org

ESCAP comprises 53 members and nine associate members that are home to over 60 per cent of the world's population. This makes ESCAP the most comprehensive of the United Nations five regional commissions, and the largest United Nations intergovernmental body serving the Asia-Pacific region. ESCAP provides an intergovernmental forum for its member States to promote regional cooperation and collective action, assisting countries in building and sustaining shared economic growth, social equity and environmental sustainability.
